

$72 billion less each year for the next generation

When it comes to taxes and our children's security, it's common sense.

Mainers understand that if you cut $72 billion a year in revenue by repealing the Estate Tax, someone's taxes will have to go up, or benefits and services like Social Security, Medicare, education and defense may be cut for us and our kids. For every person who saves by repealing the Estate Tax, there will be 50 others who pay.

That's why Americans are overwhelmingly in favor of reforming, not repealing the Estate Tax. Reforming the estate tax so each person can pass on $2 million tax-free makes more sense. It protects small businesses and family farms while looking after our friends and neighbors who may need a helping hand.
