

The last thing a rich heiress needs is a one trillion dollar raise in her allowance.

Then again, designer dresses
don't come cheap.

For every person that saves by repealing
the estate tax, more than 50 others will pay.

If we don't reform the estate tax in the right way, our government will lose a trillion dollars in revenue. That means either someone's taxes are going up, benefits and services like Social Security and Medicare will be cut or a trillion dollars will be added to the national debt.

Call your Senators. Tell them to do what's right.
Support real reform of the estate tax.
Make it fair for all Americans.
